

Student's Name _____ Accelerated Oral Reading Fluency (ORF)

Oral Reading Fluency is a standardized, individually administered test of accuracy and fluency with connected text.

200
198
196
194
192
190
188
186
184
182
180
178
176
174
172
170
168
166
164
162
160
158
156
154
152
150
148
146
144
142
140
138
136
134
132
130
128
126
124
122
120
118
116
114
112
110
108
106
104
102
100
DATE														