

Student's Name _____ 3rd Oral Reading Fluency (ORF)

Oral Reading Fluency is a standardized, individually administered test of accuracy and fluency with connected text.

	At Risk	Some Risk	Low Risk
Beginning of Year	0-52	53-76	77+
Middle of Year	0-66	67-91	92+
End of Year	0-79	80-109	110+

110
108
106
104
102
100
98
96
94
92
90
88
86
84
82
80
78
76
74
72
70
68
66
64
62
60
58
56
54
52
50
48
46
44
42
40
38
36
34
32
30
28
26
24
22
20
18
16
14
12
10
8
6
4
2
DATE

